DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Reinwald (DE4121766) in view of Troutner et al (US Patent 5,421,951).

Reinwald discloses a device for transferring a decoration from an embossing foil to a material web. As shown in Fig. 1, the device 10 comprises embossing station 16 with heated supporting device 18, and an array of pressing rollers 20. Web material 14 and embossing film 12 are transported through embossing section 36 between the supporting device 18 and the pressing rollers 20. The supporting device 18 has support rollers 22 and endless supporting belt 34.

However, Reinwald does not disclose the transport device having a fixing device with fixing elements as claimed by the applicant. Regarding this difference, the applicant is directed to the reference of Troutner.

Troutner discloses a platen press. As shown in the figures, the press 10 comprises infeed conveyor 26, working stretch 28 and outfeed conveyor 30. The press includes a first set of press platens or fixing device 32 having platens or fixing elements 32a, 32b, etc. The press includes a second set of press platens or fixing device 34 having platens or fixing elements 34a, 34b, etc. The conveyor system includes first endless support member 36 and second endless support member 38. See col. 3, line 19 through col. 5, line 10.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to employ a the transport device having a fixing device with fixing elements, as taught by Troutner, in the device of Reinwald, in order to convey and press the materials as desired. In addition, without the disclosure of unexpected results, it is the examiner's position that the clamping elements and suction elements are well known and conventional in the art and would have been obvious to employ in the device of Reinwald in order to facilitate transporting and embossing of the materials.
